Synopsys to Repatriate $775-$850 Million of International Cash

Updating GAAP targets; No Change to Non-GAAP targets

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif., Sept. 8, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Synopsys, Inc. (Nasdaq: SNPS) today announced that its board of directors has approved a plan to repatriate approximately $775 to $850 million of cash currently held offshore during the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2017. The repatriation is planned in anticipation of potential corporate tax reform, and the company expects to be able to realize the benefit of its existing R&D tax credits to reduce the tax payment on the repatriation. Synopsys expects to record a one-time tax expense, excluded from non-GAAP results, of approximately $160 to $180 million in the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2017. The related tax payment (after credits) of approximately $40 to $50 million is expected to be paid in the first half of fiscal year 2018.

Synopsys plans to use the repatriated cash consistent with its current capital allocation strategy: a combination of funding its operations, stock repurchases, acquisitions, and debt repayment.

As a result of the anticipated one-time tax expense, Synopsys is updating its GAAP earnings per share targets for the fourth quarter and fiscal year 2017. The company is not changing its non-GAAP targets, as this one-time tax expense will be excluded from its non-GAAP results.

New GAAP earnings per share target ranges:

- Q4 GAAP earnings (loss) per share:$(0.91) $(0.71)
- FY 2017 GAAP earnings per share:$0.75 $0.95
